Writing

Dear Principal,

You know that our school has enough money to improve the buildings or the facilities and each class of our school was recently asked to suggest where to spend these money. Our class decided that they should be spent on the extension of the library. We suggested such a thing because our library is really small right now and it needs to be bigger. Also we talked about the new books that should be bought, because there are many interesting books that our students would probably like to read, without having to worry about their price.

And last, but certainly, not least, we would like to get the library's resources upgraded, because our librarian's current computer works slower than previous year, when it was bought.

We want you to listen to us,
N.
